TOWER 18

Open up my eyes and saw the state I left you in
So. Cal contradiction was the light that I let in Standing with perfection on the tower 18 sand
I met a girl who cried to me when she talked about her debt

Forceful entry necessary push turns into shout
Little helpers right beside me foaming at the mouth
It's a twenty dollar ticket you can buy a stamp and lick it and send it to your momma's house
I'll be there in a minute yeah there's no way out I'm in it yeah
I shimmy shake and get on the ground

Waiting on the other side to win
Trace it back to where it all begins
I can feel your soul inside my hand
Like a river
Like a river like a river I'm wading

Load into the darkness getting back on Midwest time
Took a hit and we're never going to quit if you want to make it last for life
It's a twenty dollar ticket
You can buy a stamp and lick it and send it to your mother's house
I'll be there in a minute yeah there's no way out I'm in it yeah
I shimmy shake and get on the ground

Waiting on the other side to win
Trace it back to where it all begins
I can feel your soul inside my hand
Like a river
Like a river like a river I'm wading

DON'T HESITATE

Don't hesitate to relate down to your mistakes
There's a blood drop dripping and you cant stop tripping over what it takes There's a time and a place where your best chance is your worst case
So pack it up stand and wait for the foundation to break

Shine your light on me
Shine your light on me

Don't hesitate to relate down to your mistakes
There's a blood drop dripping and you cant stop tripping over what its gonna take
There's a time stare and theres a love care and theres a heart where There's everything you ever wanted
Don't stop get around coming back its coming down
Get into it
You wanted it now

Shine your light on me
Shine your light on me
Shine your light just a little bit bigger
Shine your light just a little bit quicker on me

PURPLE DRESS

Waiting for me in your purple dress
Dirty knees and shiny shiny bracelet
Wind through the screen door sing like a bell
I think you look best when you look like hell

Dance me down through that dusty cloud
To the beach where you tell me stories of living at your grandmother's house

I will listen through the rain and I will listen on through the wind
Now that we're both here you know we can't wait to be here again
Angel you're beautiful with the sand stuck to your lips and to your nose
I'd love to tell the whole world but the whole world already knows

Sitting beside me in the basement at home
Blowing across bottles to make up the sound of a familiar dial tone
Dance me down through that dusty cloud
To the beach where you tell me stories of living at your grandmother's house

Waiting for me in your purple dress
Dirty knees and shiny shiny bracelet
Wind through the screen door sing like a bell
I think you look best when you look like hell

Dance me down through that dusty cloud
To the beach where you tell me stories of living at your grandmother's house
